

All-Metro girls basketball team

By STAFF REPORTS

Published: April 16, 2009

Shay

Bentley

School: Manchester

Year: Senior

Position: Center/

forward

Height: 5-9

The skinny: Can dominate the inside despite being undersized. She was named the Dominion District player of the year and set a single-season school scoring record with 544 points (21.8 average). She also contributed 12 rebounds and three assists a game. Was second-team All-Metro last year.

What you didn't know: I can play the piano and sing.

Michelle

Foley

School: Mills Godwin

Year: Senior

Position: Guard/

forward

Height: 5-10

The skinny: Capped a three-year run of success at Mills Godwin by being named Colonial District player of the year. She led the Eagles in scoring (15.2 ppg), rebounding (7.3), blocked shots (39) and charges taken (13). She also contributed 37 steals and 75 assists.

What you didn't know: I dislike all "High School Musicals."

Ka'lia

Johnson

School: Thomas Dale

Year: Sophomore

Position: Guard

Height: 5-9

The skinny: A first-team All-Metro pick for the second consecutive year, Johnson is drawing considerably recruiting attention. She was named the Central District and Central Region player of the year. She averaged 17 points and led the Knights in rebounding.

What you didn't know: I eat Chipotle (burrito or burrito bowl and chips and guac) at least four times a week during the summer.

Becca

Wann

School: Cosby

Year: Junior

Position: Guard/

forward

Height: 5-10

The skinny: Wann is the most versatile of the Titans. She can knock down 3-pointers and score inside, but doling out assists keeps everyone in the game. She averaged 8.3 assists and surpassed the 500 career assists mark. She also averaged 16.1 points, 7.7 rebounds and four steals. Wann was a first-team All-Metro pick in soccer last spring.

What you didn't know: I have to sing Taylor Swift songs before every basketball game.